The Salvation Army in the War

The Salvation Army is an army of peace, that is, it was organized to bring about peace in the hearts and lives of men and women through the salvation of Jesus Christ. It is also an army of war, and it can truly be said that no organization in the British Empire, in proportion to numbers, has given so much service to King and country in greater numbers than has the Salvation Army. Many thousands of Salvationists are on active service. Humanitarian work is being carried on everywhere through their own ambulances on the battlefield; in Salvation Army buildings placed at the disposal of the British government for hospital purposes; in the hundreds of buildings erected in the interests of the men at the various training camps, and in any and every way that the boys in khaki can be administered to.

It is estimated that a conservative figure that there are over 50,000 Salvationists in the King's service. Of this number upwards of 10,000 are Salvation Army bandmen, many of whom are not only taking their places in the various battalion bands but actually filling the position of unofficially appointed chaplains. The boys have been comforted and prayed with in their last hours, the sick relieved and cheered. In fact, their work has been of a very commendable character.

The various corps in Alberta have contributed their quota, practically the entire S. A. bands of Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat and other points, having volunteered for overseas service.

Fifteen Salvation Army bandmen are at present holding positions as handymen of Canadian battalions.

The Salvation Army has two units of ambulance motors in France given by the Canadian Salvation Army and now in use in Russia, and also a unit of five ambulance cars at work in Egypt with the Australian and New Zealand troops. These cars are all fully equipped for field hospital work and are manned by Salvation Army officers and drivers, who are in a position not only to minister to the body but also to the spiritual wants of the wounded.

General Bramwell Booth recently contributed to the funds of the British Red Cross society from the S. A. funds the sum of $10,000 to assist in the Red Cross work.

The Salvation Army of Canada has four officially appointed chaplains with the overseas forces. Adjutant Robert Penfold, Adjutant Bryan Robinson, Adjutant William Carroll and Captain Alfred Steele, all hold the rank of captain. Captain Penfold is working amongst the Canadian troops in France while the other three officers are still in England. Officers are also in service at each of the military training camps in the Dominion. Rest rooms are provided where the men can rest, read and write, writing materials being provided in each case.

A recent report handed out from the international headquarters in London, stated that in France, up to a recent date, the ambulance cars in that part alone had handled twenty thousand cases of wounded, carrying them from the field of battle to the hospitals.

Adjutant Green, who is now with the New Zealand troops in Egypt, and who holds the honorary rank of captain in His Majesty's forces, has recently been awarded a military medal for services rendered in the interests of the New Zealand troops.

Salvation Army chaplains, officially recognized by the various governments, are with the armies of Great Britain, and its colonies, France, Italy, Russia, Serbia, and, in fact, with almost all the belligerent nations.

William McKenzie, a Salvation Army officer, was appointed by the Australian government as one of the chaplains to accompany the great expeditionary force that left Australia in the autumn of 1914. He arrived with the troops at Egypt, but when in due course they were sent to the Dardanelles he did not immediately follow. The Australians arrived in Gallipoli late in April. McKenzie reached the front with the first brigade of the Australians at the end of the first week of May. At the same time he landed the Turkish trenches were within 50 yards. There had not been as yet any chaplains there. He was sent for because the boys themselves were most anxious that he should be with them. They knew him and they liked him. There was abundant need for chaplains. The troops had been paying very dearly for their boldness. Attacking the Turks without guns, armed only with rifles, bayonettes, and facing a deadly hail of shrapnel and machine gun fire, they had carried trench after trench, but at a cost of over 5,000 casualties.

"STEW IN OUR OWN GRAVE." His first work was to conduct the funeral service of the colonel of the 4th battalion. "We found our colonel's body," he said, "lying in an exposed position. We buried him at 3 p.m., and had to be crawling to read the service. The bullets, meanwhile, whistled over my head by the hundreds. I thought I was nearly out on four separate occasions, twice with shells and twice with bullets. The first shell fell three feet behind me, and as I threw myself flat on the road, I got covered with soil thrown up by the shell. The second shell fell the next day, while conducting a funeral service. There were twenty of us, and the shrapnel fell all around, and even into the grave, although by a miracle none of us were hit. One bullet grazed the top of my head, and another my right ear."

From a series of funerals under fire he went straight off for 24 hours with the men in the front trenches. "I may or may not come out of this struggle alive; but, whatever happens

I am more than glad to be with the men and preach Jesus to them and try to live as a militant Christian should. I am supremely happy and will die for my country and in the interests of the men with readiness and without fear."

S. A. CHAPLAIN IN EGYPT

An inspiring glimpse into the nature of the work being done by Lieut. Col. William McKenzie, S. A. chaplain with the Australian expeditionary force, is given in a letter from the colonel which Mrs. General Booth quotes in her "International Notes" contributed to "All the World".

"You will be pleased to hear," the colonel writes, "that God is with us and working in our midst. We are having huge meetings with some soul saving results. There were 4,000, from two brigades, at my church parade on Sunday morning. General and staff in attendance, also Lord Raddstock; a fine open-air at 6 p.m.; 2,500 present at night meeting, with 41 men seeking Salvation."

"There were 20 seekers at the meeting last Wednesday night out of a company of 800. One hundred and fifty were present at Friday night's Bible class. Over 200 have professed conversion during the past five weeks."

"Would you say this is a religious awakening?"

"Two men got saved in my tent last Thursday night, and one on Monday night. They are so ready to listen to me and seem to yield so willingly to God. The Holy Spirit is working mightily, and I want to honor Him and be a channel through which He may flow unhindered."

"What a privilege to be here and witness His working! Thousands are going to be gathered in. Alas! there are comparatively few who make the consistent call for definite and immediate decision. However, let us rejoice for those who do. May God add to the number!"

In another letter Colonel McKenzie tells of his more intimately personal work among the troops—heart-to-heart talks with men—and of further conversions to God. He is distributing large numbers of Testaments, which the men are reading.

One of the Australian soldiers at present recuperating in England speaking of Colonel McKenzie's work said:

"We had a Salvation Army chaplain with us," "and he was a big, burly beggar, I can tell you, without a bit of nonsense in him. My! Some of the stunts he did would make the hair stand on your head. One day we were setting out for one of the worst bits of the whole front. We had to storm the stiffest part of the Turkish front, and we knew very well that not many of us were likely to come back. McKenzie declared he was coming with us, 'Boys,' he said, 'I've prayed with you and I've preached to you, and you think I am afraid to die with you? I'd be ashamed of myself to flunk it when you are up against it hard.' And he came along with us and not a hair on his back. One of the fellows he had with him was a little stick, and he came out of the fight without a scratch. I do not belong to the Salvation Army and I'm not likely to belong to it, but I do know a man when I meet him. And he was a man!"

Every Man admires a workmanlike job

And that is why any man who is thinking of installing a heating system should examine the Sunshine Furnace. It is a piece of work he will take to.

There is a sound reason for this. Take the shape of the fire-pot as an example. The straight walls allow the ashes to fall to the bottom of the furnace, where they would interfere with the free passage of heat from the burning coal. See the large, double, tight-fitting doors. Notice how easily the dampers are controlled. Not much trouble to shut off the fire and hold the heat with this furnace. See how dust is directed up the chimney whenever the fire is shaken down. Note the large, radiating surfaces and wide passages for heating the air. It was a man who knew his job that designed 689 Casgrain St., Montreal.

MR. ROSENBERG

April 20th, 1916

"In my opinion, no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and Indigestion as 'Fruit-a-tives'. I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, Music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with nasty Headaches, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try 'Fruit-a-tives', and now for six months I have been entirely well."

I advise any one who suffers from that horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try 'Fruit-a-tives', and you will be agreeably surprised at the great benefit you will receive". "THE VETERANS"

"The Veterans" is the appropriate name given the 187th by Lt.-Col. Robinson. This is owing to the fact that some fifteen of the officers have seen active service. A portion of them in two or more campaigns. This is a glorious record for one battalion to have and it will stick. The name is a very fitting one, and will draw men to the ranks. The splendid recruiting record of the 187th has astonished many of those who shook their heads at a Central Alberta battalion, but the secret is in the man at the head. Clean cut, masterly, every inch a soldier, still with a kindly heart, he commands the respect and esteem of his officers and men and judging from the men who have joined on up to the present time the regiment will be one of which any commanding officer will well feel justly proud and will take a front rank, we feel assured, among western battalions.

MR. KYTE TRIES TO CRAWL

The Edmonton Journal, in speaking of the failure of the Kite charges, says that after a passage in Wednesday's proceedings before the Meredith-Duff commission those who have found it hard to understand the exact purposes of the enquiry will hardly put it down to their own hardness. At the close of Sir Sam Hughes' testimony Mr. Carvell remarked: "Mr. Kite made no charges. He made a statement in the house which the government wanted investigated." To this Mr. Hollnuth replied:

"I certainly was under the impression that the commission was to inquire into the actions of the shell commission and General Hughes. If the 'Kite charges' were not intended as a reflection upon the shell commission and General Hughes, and if it is not intended that the investigation condemn or clear either of these I have entirely misunderstood the entire enquiry.

Sir William Meredith also stated that he believed the evidence adduced was for this purpose and to show if possible that General Hughes had brought influence to bear upon the shell commission on behalf of his friend, Col. Allison. If neither the minister of militia nor the shell committee committed any impropriety what earthly reason was there for the enquiry? Col. Allison's conduct was only a legitimate subject of investigation as it affected Sir Sam. The body that he established to buy munitions for the British government.

Letters from the Front

R. J. Dorar of the 5th Artillery Brigade writing to his wife in Red Deer says:

Somewhere in Belgium,

My Dearest Stella!—It is a little quiet this morning, so I will try to hurry a page or two, before the music begins. Have escaped so far, but had I don't know how many narrow escapes. It is terrible how close they can come and still miss you, we have had only one more casualty since I last wrote you, but we are fortunate as they only often send them over pretty fast. Well, dear, this is the next day, and since I left off above, it has been pretty hot, nearly met my Waterloo a dozen times, but still in the ring, and it has quieted down again to the normal steady snoring, and I go for another rest to-morrow. If all goes well, how pleased I shall be to get it as this place is getting as hot as a furnace, and I am sure you jump at the least suspicion of a shell and get on your stomach, face down. It is getting worse and worse each day, but we give them just as much or more than they give us, so there is not much room for complaint. It has begun to rain again after having been just lovely weather for two weeks, and when it rains it is so cold, they have taken one of our blankets away, so that I have only with only one and it is pretty chilly especially at nights, but when the weather is fine, you could not rest or anything better, but I am sure we do not look for that for some time yet for many reasons, which I will not write here. We have just lost two more men since I began this letter, and they were both nice fellows, one a mere boy and the other a South African Veteran. I have not even any of the Red Deer boys since I wrote you last, although they are quite near, I do not have time to see them, as it is not very comfortable walking on the roads in almost any part of the line. There are so many incidents, in our part of the line, that happen from time to time, but I do not care to have my letter destroyed, I do not care to write of them so you must have patience until I return.

Was it not shameful for a bunch of muckmills in Ireland to begin such a thing as that, when they should have thought of their brothers in France and Belgium fighting for their existence and who never say die, and so many of Ireland's brave sons have died on the battlefields of Flanders in defence of the Empire, my dear, I am almost ashamed of them, if I did not understand how it all happens I would think it was a disgrace. I was in it as traitors even to their own people. See the beautiful buildings in Dublin and in other cities which have been destroyed, hundreds killed, or wounded, women and children made homeless, all for what, just the insane idea, that Ireland was to be free from the German rule, which, if they only knew it, is worse than slavery. If they knew the Germans as we know them, they would never entertain such a wild notion of what they call freedom. I am thankful it has ended as it began, just a cloudburst and a cover.

We are in, or near, a most beautiful old Chateau, which must have been a "cure for sore eyes" in times of peace, we have part of the furniture with us, parts of three pianos, and countless mirrors of all sizes, all the woodwork is hand carved, malagany and birch, with great varieties of flowers and trees in the gardens, just like the old mansions I remember reading of many years ago. How I should like to take a trip through this country after the war with someone who had never seen it, it must be so very peaceful and thrifty in ordinary times, but now the civil population have left all of the frontier towns and nearly all of the houses are deserted excepting the farm houses, and some of the farmers live and work in the fields quite close to the line, but when the shells begin to come they must make a dash for the shelter, or wait for a long time, if they are cutting down on the ration in our unit, and you do not get anything but the same old thing, day after day, so something made at home will taste so good and be a real treat. We are getting tired of putting Belgium in sandbags and can't last much longer, as we have it nearly all bagged up, been working on since last winter, thousands and thousands of them, I often wonder whether they will fill sand bags in Germany when we get there. The nice summer weather we had before this rainy spell had the effect of raising the spirits of the men a good deal, for when it is nice here, it is nice there.

Well, darling, I must be making you tired reading all this trash, but it is so hard to find anything to say you are allowed to say so little, but maybe sometime soon I will get a chance to send you a long letter with a good deal of news if I can get on the road side of the censor.

I shall try now to get a little sleep, so shall say good-night, and close, from your loving husband and daddy.

Your own boy "BOB."

Monk's Horton Convalescent Home, Via Hythe, Kent.

Dear Folks:—As you will see, I am at last away from hospital after twelve weeks of course I am glad to be away, yet in a way, I was sorry to leave. I was enjoying my stay there so much. I had two or three very good friends in the district and Sisters, etc., were so very nice, I almost forgot. I was in the army, and that my business was to destroy or capture the legions of Kaiser Bill. This is a beautiful place, apparently some big bug's country residence. It is about ten miles from anywhere in the country, so pretty. I think that is the word that best describes English scenery—certainly not magnificent.

My birthday passed very quietly, as it was my wish that there should be no national rejoicings on account of the war. In the evening, it being the anniversary of Ypres, we celebrated in a suitable manner by holding a public pillow-fight. About 10.30, the night sister appeared on the scene, and she certainly sang. "Slingshot" in very abbreviated costume, was endeavoring (without success) to occupy a bed in which another comrade was already snoring (I) blissfully. The Human Gun Wiper (alias myself) was attired in the mattress of my dismantled bed, and had already made some four times that evening. The poor sister made a noise like a hen having distended its neck, and went to the kitchen to get the Ypres II and the sun set, and the stars came out, and all the land was dark. You can judge from the above how my health is.

I will be in convalescent home for weeks yet. I will leave this place in a day or two, as it is a clearing station for the different homes. The M.O. told me he had put a foot on my transfer sheet, to the effect that I had to be sent to the best place possible. Oh, I'll tell you what I could not have had more tender care or better treatment in the best hospital in the world, considering the facilities for treatment in Moore Barracks. I could never thank them enough. It has been very interesting meeting so many different people from different parts of Canada. I met a Red Deer boy from the 5th H.A. today. I had a very interesting talk with him about the boys out there. He knew all of them, and what their fate was.

Well, I must close now, hoping you are all well.

Yours affectionately,

"TED."

Differs from Premier Borden on Bilingualism

Important to Horse Breeders

Ottawa, Can., May 27, '16

To the Editor of the "News"—

Dear Sir,—The breeding of horses has become a matter of prime necessity. Before the war commenced there was a slump in prices owing to financial conditions and the inroads of motor power that led to a cessation of racing. Then the war came with its demand for certain classes. Following the previous decline in the demand many farmers sacrificed their mares. The result is a serious depletion and a sure scarcity.

The demand is increasing and will continue to increase long after peace has been declared. If Canada is to take advantage of the situation the time to start in is now. There will be an assured market demand for foals at weaning time from mares bred now.

Not only has the wastage by reason of war been enormous, but in all the belligerent countries, and omitting Great Britain, there has either been a partial stoppage or a whole stoppage of breeding by reason of the scarcity of labor, the disturbed conditions, or entire devastation. Whether the war lasts or ceases there must continue an undiminished demand for horses. When peace comes there will be a long period of replenishment. Then quality as much as even more than quantity will be required. Hence the evident call to every Canadian farmer is to breed and to breed to the best available, to utilize his own stock and to secure the immediate services of the best pure-bred sire of type in his neighborhood. It will pay.

This appeal is addressed to you with the endorsement of the various horse breeders' associations of Canada, to remedy the serious situation that has arisen.

Yours truly,

Patriotic Fund

The Secretary-Treasurer has asked us to say that no payments will be made to dependents while the soldier is on subsistence. As soon as the troops go into barracks payments will begin.

During the past nine months the sum of $7977 has been collected, leaving slightly over $2000 to be raised before 31st August. Sixty wives and 100 children in and around Red Deer are now receiving monthly payments from the fund, and many new applications are being received from men lately enlisted. Subscribers in arrears are urgently requested to pay up, and all others are invited to increase their subscriptions. Unless our citizens and the farmers of the district pay and pay liberally the Red Deer Branch will not be able to make good on its undertaking to raise $10,000 for the year ending with August.

Taking The Census

Mr. Orlando Bush, of Edmonton, the Census Commissioner for this district, visited Red Deer on Wednesday last, giving instructions to the census enumerators in this district. The enumerators began their work on June 1, and have three weeks and, in odd cases, to July 1, to complete their work.

The regular Dominion census is taken every ten years, the last one being taken in 1911, but under the arrangements whereby the western provinces were given provincial status, an interim census of population, etc., has to be taken by the Dominion Government every five years in the Western provinces, and under the population figure every five years depends the provincial subsidies of Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The districts and enumerators in Red Deer provincial constituency are:

WHEAT AND THE WAR

One of the most comprehensive articles in The Agricultural War Book of 1916 deals with the subject of "Wheat and the War." It is written by Mr. T. K. Doherty, L.L.B., Commissioner of the International Agricultural Institute. The author traces the course of events, as regards the wheat market, in the momentous years of 1913, 1914 and 1915, the first named, sharing with the last two years some of their importance---although preceding the war---by reason of the decline of prices from those of 1912. In 1914-15 prices per bushel of British wheat jumped from $1.05 to $1.01. In this connection Mr. Doherty asks readers to examine a table giving quotations of prices since the year 1800. In 1812 the figures reached their zenith, British having wars with France and the United States on her hands. Wheat was then $3.80 a bushel, or more than three times the value of today. During the first quarter of the nineteenth century the lowest price was $1.87 this was in 1882. In the 2nd quarter the lowest figure was reached in 1835, when wheat stood at $1.35. In the third quarter prices ranged from $1.17 in 1851 to $2.27 in 1855, fluctuating after that from $1.22 in 1864 to $1.95 in 1867 and down to $1.37 in 1875. In 1878 the price was $1.73. In 1879 the quotation was $1.40. A period of steady decline followed until 1883, when there was a drop to $1.25. The decline continued, the even dollar being reached in the following year. Then, for the first time in the period covered in the table, or in 1886, below that figure was reached the lowest figure was reached in 1891 the price was $1.13. In 1898 it was $1.03, the lowest point, namely 68 cents being touched in 1894. Fourteen years elapsed before a dollar was again exceeded. In 1909 the highest quotation stood at $1.13. Mr. Doherty briefly outlines the cause for these fluctuations, and proceeds to deal with the situation arising from the supply and demand in the last three years. He also deals with the output of other crops during these years, referring to the best known authorities in support of his deductions and decisions. He goes largely into the requirements and productions of the world in wheat, giving tables showing the yield in 32 countries of wheat and 22 of oats. In his conclusion, he also suggests that every aspect of the wheat situation appears to indicate the improbability of a return to the low average prices of 1910, 1911 and 1912, and that following the declaration of peace there will be a greatly increased demand. His final words are "Economic interests unite, therefore, with patriotic duty in stimulating the agriculturists of Canada to extraordinary productive efforts during the forthcoming season." As an appendix, a description is given of marketing operations in Australia. The article deserves and should attract wide attention. The War Book can be had by addressing the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

LOCAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN

The Executive Committee of the Local Council of Women met on Tuesday, May 30, at the residence of the president, Mrs. W. A. Moore. Some important correspondence was read. First, the report of the meeting of the Executive of the National Council, which was held in Ottawa, May 2 and 3. Then a letter from the National Executive, assuring whether the Local Executive thought it wise to have a conference of the women of the Province to consider the provincial, national and international problems which the country would have to meet during and after the war. To this the Executive decided to send a favorable answer. Mrs. Simpson, Convener of the Laws Committee, read a letter from Mrs. Arthur Murphy, of Edmonton, giving an account of a meeting held March 3 in Edmonton, when some of the representative women of Alberta, in convention there conferred regarding a committee to consider what bills the women of Alberta had better bring before the next or ensuing session of the Legislature.

Mrs. Quigley's resignation of the Council of Health Committee was regretfully accepted. Mrs. Muldrew was elected Convener by acclamation.

CALGARY CO-OP. MARKETS

June 3, 1916
Cattle---The best price for cattle on record at Calgary ($8.40 straight) was obtained by us for a car of steers shipped by David McCuen of Olds, 1 cow at $7.50, 1 bull at 6c.

These cattle weighed 17,700 at point of shipment, weighed off cars 17,070 and weighed 17,710 lbs when weighed for sale, a yard fill of 640 lbs. This price was equal to $8.15 on the steers, $7.25 on the cow, and $5.75 on the bull, weighed at Olds, all expenses paid. It pays to consign to "Farmers" heavy demands and overnight receipts made this a record week's trading on fat cattle. (Steers.) Top price a year ago $6. Select hogs $8.50.
Hogs. We sold two cars of hogs Monday at 30c, and had to take $9.50 for consignment Tuesday. Salesmen held for higher prices and realized $9.05 on their hogs Thursday and $9.75 Friday. This week we handled 42 per cent of the direct hog consignments to the Calgary yards.
We look for a steady cattle market for at least another week. Hogs may go to $9.50 again. The weather and impassable roads kept receipts back, and we look for a heavy supply of hogs next week and light demand. Steers, ex choice heavy $8.00-$8.15. Steers, common to choice

GREEKS AND BULGARS CLOSE TO WAR

New York, June 2.---A News Agency dispatch from Rome to-day said:
"A declaration of war between Greece and Bulgaria, growing out of the Bulgarian invasion of eastern Macedonia, is believed in Athens to be imminent. Dispatches from the Greek capital to-day declare that the Bulgarian minister protested to King Constantine's government against the firing upon Bulgarian troops by Greeks on the frontier. Premier Skouloudis declined to receive the protest.
"The curt refusal of the Greek premier to entertain the Bulgarian representations has resulted in a tense situation."

GREAT NAVAL BATTLE IN THE NORTH SEA

Small Force of British Meet and Hold German Fleet

REINFORCEMENTS OF BRITISH VESSELS CAUSED GERMANS TO RUN FOR COVER

London, June 3. — An additional British official communication just issued says:

"Since the last communication was issued a further report has been received from the commander-in-chief of the grand fleet, stating that it has now been ascertained that our total losses in destroyers amount to eight boats in all.

"The commander-in-chief also reports that it is now possible to give a closer estimate of the losses and the damage sustained by the enemy fleet.

"One dreadnought battleship of the Kaiser class was blown up in an attack by British destroyers, and another dreadnought battleship of the Kaiser class is believed to have been sunk by gunfire. Of three German battle cruisers, two of which it is believed were the Derfflinger and the Lutzow, one was blown up, another engaged by our battle fleet, was seen to be disabled and stopping, and the third was observed to be seriously damaged.

"One German light cruiser and nine German destroyers were sunk, and at least two more German light cruisers were seen to be disabled. Further, repeated hits were observed on three other German battleships that were engaged.

"Finally, a German submarine was rammed and sunk. Summarizing the statements issued by the British admiralty, and collating the same, with the credible facts of the Berlin statements, the British cruiser squadron, consisting of six or perhaps eight battle cruisers, a number of light cruisers and destroyers supported by four fast super-dreadnought battleships, probably of the Queen Elizabeth class, carried out a reconnaissance in force off the coast of Jutland, and there came into contact with the entire German high seas fleet.

In the battle which followed, lasting a day and a night, under foggy and misty conditions, the losses on either side were very heavy but it remained a tactical British victory. The enemy was forced to retreat, while German losses in super-dreadnoughts consisted of two Kaiser class battleships and one Derfflinger class battle cruiser were sunk, with two more of the latter either sunk or seriously damaged, as against three British battle cruisers sunk. The enemy, therefore, suffered considerably heavier actual, and enormously greater relative loss in the all-important capital ships.

British losses further include three armored cruisers of an obsolete type, and one which has provided many victims to the North Sea. Unfortunately the loss of life in these vessels must have been very heavy. Eight British destroyers were also lost.

Against these British losses of inferior craft the enemy lost one light cruiser, six destroyers and one submarine, with two other light cruisers disabled and possibly lost. Loss of life may have ranged anywhere from 12,000 to 20,000, perhaps fairly even.

Calgary Fair

Prospects are the brightest for the success of the Calgary Industrial Exhibition to be held June 22nd to July 5th. The prize list is now ready and the entries close on the 15th of June. The soldiers who have been using the buildings during the winter have just left for England, and the buildings will be rapidly prepared for the exhibition.

The programme of attractions is an outstanding one including many features any one of which would be worth a trip to the exhibition. Miss Stinson, the wonderful girl aviator who will appear twice daily at the exhibition recently astounded the thousands of visitors at Sheepshead Bay, New York, by her wonderful work. The New York daily papers were very loud in their praise, and fair visitors will be fortunate in being able to witness such special features at Calgary as are seen by those residing in the largest centres of the United States. L.I.D. No. 339

The Council of L.I.D. No. 339 met at the Sandy Cove hotel, Pine Lake, on Saturday at 1.30 p.m. Present: J. Ross, chairman, Northey, Eggen, Kraut, Blake, F. Ross, Fiske, and J. W. Hey, secretary-treasurer.

The Auditor's report was presented. The Secretary-Treasurer had been advised by the Department of Public Affairs that the L.I. districts and rural municipalities had been secured in their tax arrears in case of tax sales by municipalities of lands, in arrears in school districts.

Mr. Fiske offered a motion whether a survey between sec. 27 and 34-36-25-W4, asked for in 1914, is still wanted. The Government enquires.

Mr. Blake was empowered to open up a road between sec. 10 and 11-37-26-W4, if such seemed necessary and practicable.

Mr. F. Ross was empowered to take action with respect to mudhole and brush near Glenellen schoolhouse.

Mr. F. J. Powell will be informed that the Council will pay outstanding road wages as soon as money is available. Mr. Powell, on behalf of members of Edwell Union, did not see why they should be charged interest on arrears of taxes, when wages were owing.

Mr. Cuddy asked for a grant of $100 towards a road to the Pine Lake creamery. The Council could not make a grant until a survey was made, and the Department of Public Works will be requested to make a survey for a road through sec. 7 and 8-36-25, W4.

Messrs. Colton, Raikes and others requested road cut and west and north and south to give easier access to Penhold and Innisfail from their section of Pine Lake. Messrs. F. Ross and Blake will look into the requests, and see if their divisions have funds to make the improvements.

The Secretary-Treasurer was authorized to purchase 18 drag scrapers and one steel road drag for the various divisions.

The Secretary-Treasurer was authorized to write the Department of Public Works to bridge at the south-east corner of 37-36-25, W4, as the inside piles of the bridge were sinking. Also with reference to new 704 bridges required between sec. 1 and 2-36-26, W4 and sec. 28 and 23-37-26, W4, and as to the mud-hills of bridge between sec. 19 and 20-37-26, W4. Also to the dangerous condition of the bridge cut at the Lakeside College, Red Deer, of which consideration had been promised by the Department last summer.

Accounts amounting to $47.55 as follows were passed for payment: Chas. E. Colton $7; W. Springbett, 60c; $2.65; Red Deer Advocate $2; Western Municipal News, tax rolls, $24; John Ross, expenses to Edmonton convention, $11; Gaetz-Cornett Co., 30c; Road appropriations were authorized as follows, labor only:

Division 1, $850
Division 2, $900
Division 3, $800
Division 4, $1750, including possible purchase of gravel pit.
Division 5, $1000
Division 6, $800.

The next meeting will be held at the Council Chamber, Red Deer, on Tuesday, July 18, at 1 p.m.

Leslieville

Mr. Buchart, the former Leslieville school teacher, who is now training in the University Corps, Edmonton, is spending the week end here, renewing old acquaintances and friendship.

Mr. A. N. McKinnon went on a business trip to Red Deer Saturday. Mr. Everett Foreman left this week to take a position in the C.N.R. Round house at 15 1/2 Valley. Mrs. Earl, Miss Foster and Miss Wheatley arrived at Mrs. Wheatley's their mother's home last Wednesday. The ladies looked strong, or in other words they looked fine, after having been eleven days on the road coming from England.

Friends and acquaintances of Mrs. W. L. McKinnon will be glad to learn that she arrived home on the evening train, strong and looking fine having been three weeks away undergoing an operation in the Red Deer hospital. Mrs. Jamieson accompanied Mrs. McKinnon on her trip home.

Mr. H. S. Campbell received a telegram to-night telling him that his son, John Campbell, of Prince Albert, Sask., died this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have the sincere sympathy of their friends in their sad bereavement. Mr. John Campbell had not been sick very long, and had just undergone an operation for appendicitis. He leaves a wife and one child.

Fritz Leistner and wife arrived here to-night from Poultice, Wash. They will spend a few days with his father, August Leistner, on the farm.

89th Batt. Was Inspected by Connaught

THE MARCH PAST AT OTTAWA WAS A MOST IMPOSING AFFAIR

Ottawa, May 29.—The people of the capital turned out in thousands this morning on parliament hill to witness the inspection and review by his royal highness, the Duke of Connaught, and Sir Sam Hughes, of three western regiments, the 90th of Winnipeg (Col. Munro), the 89th of Calgary and Red Deer (Lieut.-Col. Nasmyth), and the 88th of Victoria, I.C. (Col. Rous-Cullen).

Cabinet ministers in attendance at the review were Sir Thomas White, Hon. Robert Rogers, Hon. T. W. Crothers, Hon. W. J. Roche, and Martin Burrell.

The regiments occupied three sides of parliament square and made a splendid appearance, while the playing of the bands aroused much enthusiasm. It was a warm, muggy day and as the inspection took two hours the men suffered a great deal from the heat. A couple who had been in the care of regimental physicians on the way east, but who insisted on taking part in the review, succumbed to the heat and were taken to the train in ambulances after the inspection.

The Duke of Connaught shook hands with all the officers and in a brief speech paid tribute to the splendid response of the men of Western Canada have made to the Empire's call. He expressed the conviction that they would make the same fine record at the front as has been made by other western regiments which preceded them. Then came the march past. The marching of the regiments won generous applause from the spectators.

SUMMER SCHOOL JULY AND AUGUST

GEO. Y. CHOWN REGISTRAR

Canadian Asks For Drink; Is Shot by Enemy

Toronto, May 26.—Private Robert Lang, of Winnipeg, a member of the Eighth battalion, C.E.F., who was for ten months a prisoner at the concentration camp at Göttingen, Hanover, arrived in Toronto today. He was exchanged with a number of British soldiers on February 7. He will undergo surgical treatment here. He was wounded by shrapnel at Ypres on April 23, 1915. He has very little praise for the treatment meted out to the British prisoners by the German authorities.

"They simply starved us," he said.

"For three days after I was wounded I lay in one of the dressing stations without anything to eat. At the end of that time a German came by with a number of others. We were taken for a three days' trip in a crowded cattle truck to Göttingen. We had nothing to eat while on the trip."

"One of our men whose leg had been shot away was lying on the battlefield. Hearing a German come by he asked for a drink of water and was immediately shot. The German guards lost no opportunity to insult us."

"The Canadian boys are employed in the salt and stone quarries. For this work they receive six cents a day."

B.C. Elections

End of August

Victoria, B.C., June 1.—Following the prorogation of the house, last night, a minute in council was signed dissolving parliament and the date of the issue of the writs for the next general election was fixed for July 5. This will mean that the elections will not be held until near the end of August at the earliest.

Under the amendment to the Provincial Elections Act, the period between the date of nominations and the date of the election was extended to six weeks. It is hardly likely that nominations can take place throughout the province for a week or two after the writs issue, so that this period, together with the six weeks between nomination day and election day will bring the date of the next general election at the end of August or perhaps early in September. Premier Bowser refused to state the exact date on which the elections will be held.

Toronto Bond Man Gives Rosy Picture of the West

Toronto, June 1.—A rosy picture of western recovery is given by J. H. Gundy, of Wood, Gundy & Co., municipal bond dealers, who returned, to day, after a business visit to the west, which included 500 miles by motor in Southern Saskatchewan.

"I found one bank manager," said Mr. Gundy, "who said his deposits had doubled since last year, and that he was not doing any business, as nobody wanted to borrow any money. The farmers are really in good shape. Municipal conditions in Saskatchewan, with one or two exceptions, are in good condition, while British Columbia municipalities have come through without a single default."

The Wood-Gundy company recently bought $2,000,000 worth of Alberta government bonds.

BULGARS AND HUNS HOPE TO FORESTALL ADVANCE OF ALLIES

Gen. Sarraill All Ready Now For Offensive, and is in a Good Position to Beat Back All Foe Attacks

Athens, June 1.—Further concentration of Teuton and Bulgarian troops is reported north of Doiran, on the Strumitza river, and northeast in the direction of Nevochor. This in connection with the advance of the Demir-Hissar and the movements reported at Xanthi, and along the river Mesta, on the east, is considered an attempt to forestall an expected drive by the allies.

GEN. SARRAIL READY

Gen. Sarraill, in command of the Franco-British troops, is amply supplied with artillery, machine guns and ammunition, and could easily undertake such an offensive. He has lately extended his lines to the Gulf of Rodina. They now begin in the marshy plain formed by the delta of the river Vardar, west of Saloni, run north to Rendi hill, 600 metres high; there turn abruptly eastward, crossing the Vardar at Topchin, pass another hill 1,500 metres high, take in Langazza, and thence follow the northern shores of Lake Laagaza and Lake Beshik, and end at Vratsa, on the Gulf of Rodina. The entire line is about 90 miles long and forms a strong defence, as well as an excellent base for an offensive move.

The allies' line at Saloni is very much like that of the British at Torresvedras, before Lisbon, more than a century ago, where Wellington stood firmly for months and whence he pursued Gen. Massena, whose defeat finally presaged the fall of Napoleon.

Delburne

Miss Clendenning, of Vancouver, B.C., visited her brother, Mr. W. S. Clendenning, in Delburne this week.

Mr. Knight of Alexandria, Missouri, arrived in Delburne to visit his daughter here for a short time.

The ladies of St. Columba Church, Delburne, are preparing for their annual bazaar which they will hold early in July.

Miss Katie Blair is spending a few days with Olive friends.

Mrs. Cunningham, the teacher at Delburne, has been laid up this week with grippe and the school is closed.

Some one took Mr. Ferrell's car out of the garage on Friday evening last and the next day it was found in a machine some five miles from town.

Mrs. Dowling and son Kenneth, formerly of Calgary, visited Miss J. M. Clendenning in Delburne over Sunday.

Mrs. Dowling is on her way to Winnipeg, where they will reside.

Mr. Dowling has been appointed freight agent there.

Rev. and Mrs. Haddon left Monday to attend the annual Methodist Conference held at Lethbridge this year.

Mr. A. Middle will have charge of the services here next Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Wood, of Innisfail, Alta. gave a lantern lecture in the Methodist church Delburne on Thursday evening last and a most interesting and entertaining talk on Orphan Homes.

Mrs. Wood started such a home in Innisfail and formerly had charge of one in Scotland.

Last Saturday five schools in this district, namely, Mondak, Great Bend, Wood Lake, Rosedale and Gaetz Valley united and had a monster picnic on the shores of Delburne Lake. The picnic was to have been on May 24th, but owing to the rain, was postponed. The day was bright and sunny and quite a crowd attended from all parts of the community. Races, jumping, skipping, etc., were some of the sports engaged in. Mr. Rowell of Delburne, had the refreshments booth which was well patronized all day.

The Delburne Methodist church ladies are making plans for a month's Horticulture Show to be held in Delburne during the latter part of August. They intend offering prizes will be served on the grounds and a committee has been formed to look after the games and sports. Dinner will be served on the grounds and in the evening there will be a grand concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Jns. Jamieson are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a daughter recently.

Mr. McEellan, wild lands tax collector, spent the week end in Delburne.

Mrs. Kennedy who for some years has been living with her daughter, Mrs. T. U. Blair died on Saturday.

Kansas and the remains were taken last quite suddenly. She had been in ill health for some time and her death did not come as much of a surprise. Deceased was a native of there for burial. Sincere sympathy is extended to the sorrowing friends who have lost a mother, grandmother and great grandmother.

Prince of Wales Will Wed Daughter of King of Italy Is Unofficial Announcement

New York, June 1.—A Paris dispatch to The News agency here today said:

"That Prince Edward of Wales, heir apparent to the British throne, is to marry Princess Jolanda, the eldest daughter of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, and a girl of rare beauty, was the report received here today from Rome. It is rumored announcement of the engagement is imminent."

"The Prince of Wales visited Rome a few weeks ago and then made a trip to the Italian front, where he was the guest of King Victor Emmanuel. After his return the king is said to have summoned the princess, with the queen, to army headquarters to extend his congratulations. It was while returning from this visit that the queen and Princess Jolanda narrowly escaped death when Austrian aviators attacked their train. The Princess Jolanda celebrated her 15th birthday today. She is said to be extremely popular with the Italian people. Interest here in the reported engagement centers in the fact that the bonds of friendship between the two allies will be materially strengthened by the marriage."

HERE'S A SECRET

If you want to cure that skin disease of yours, you can only do so by using an ointment so refined as to be capable of penetrating to the root of the disease. Zam-Buk is capable of doing this, whereas ordinary ointments remain on the surface.

Besides its wonderful power of penetration, Zam-Buk is such a strong germicide that germs cannot live where Zam-Buk is applied. Thus, all germs, both on the surface and in the underlying tissues, are destroyed. Then the herbal essences, of which Zam-Buk is composed, promote the growth of new tissue, and a complete and permanent cure is the result.

Prove it for yourself. All druggists, Soc. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.
